

SOCIAL MEDIA DIALOGUE—FAKE NEWS

DAILY REPORT – DAY 2

Sunday, 18th February 2024

After breakfast, the activities started at the mayor's hall. Participants introduced themselves and shared their expectations for the project. Ice-breaking activities facilitated interaction and helped identify common interests.

After lunch, we came back to the session room at the mayor's hall for our afternoon session. We had a presentation on the origins and proliferation of fake news. Discussions focused on the psychological factors that make people susceptible to misinformation.

After dinner, we had a Greek cultural night. Cultural presentations highlighted the importance of understanding diverse perspectives and the role of cultural heritage in shaping identities. These insights laid the foundation for cross-cultural understanding throughout the project.
