

SOCIAL MEDIA DIALOGUE—FAKE NEWS

DAILY REPORT – DAY 4

Tuesday, 20th February 2024

After breakfast, the activities started at the mayor's hall for our morning session. We had some presentations that examined the algorithms and business models driving social media platforms, shedding light on how these platforms amplify the spread of fake news. Discussions revolved around the ethical responsibilities of both users and platform operators.

After lunch, we came back to the session room at the mayor's hall for our afternoon session. We had some workshops focused on digital literacy and media literacy skills. Participants learned techniques for critically evaluating online content and distinguishing credible sources from misinformation.

After dinner, we had a Serbian cultural night. Cultural presentations highlighted the importance of understanding diverse perspectives and the role of cultural heritage in shaping identities. These insights laid the foundation for cross-cultural understanding throughout the project.
